The Hong Kong Institute of Surveyors

“Create Your District” Competition Award Presentation Ceremony

Enriching students’ understanding of the role surveyors play and district development

(Hong Kong) 24 November 2017 – The Hong Kong Institute of Surveyors (HKIS) held an award presentation ceremony for its "Create Your District" Competition 2017 today. Guest of Honour Ir Liu Chun-san, JP, Under Secretary for Development of the Hong Kong SAR Government was accompanied by Sr Thomas Ho, President, HKIS; Sr Dr Lesly Lam, Vice-President, HKIS; and Mr Yan Wai-kiu Mickey, Guest Juror, Outstanding Young Persons of the World Honoree. Together, they presented the prizes to the winning teams.

The HKIS inaugurated “Create Your District” Competition in 2017 to encourage students to demonstrate their creativity by designing an ideal community while considering governmental policies and environmental management. The Competition also aims to promote the surveying industry by demonstrating its role in city development to younger generations.

This year, over 130 students from 26 secondary schools entered the competition. The submitted proposals and models strongly reflected the important contributions of surveyors towards the sustainable development of this city and students’ understanding of sustainable development in the community.

“To build a new community, how to balance development and conservation with a view to developing a smart and low-carbon community for living, work, business, study, leisure and accessibility is a key issue,” said Ir Liu Chun-san, JP, Under Secretary for Development of the Hong Kong SAR Government. “I would like to thank the HKIS for organising this competition and arranging workshop and guided tours for the participants. They could observe the community circumstances directly and propose different options of sustainable development with innovative ideas.”

“Surveying is a profession that is closely connected to the daily lives of all people. This year the HKIS specially launched the “Create Your District” Competition for the students,” said Sr Thomas Ho, President, HKIS. “From the launching ceremony in May, to the workshop and guided tour in August, I am happy to witness active participation of the students and so many in-depth interactions among them and surveyors during the competition. This allows the students to understand both the development cycle of a district with Sham Shui Po as an example, as well as have a deeper appreciation for the contribution and role of the surveying industry to Hong Kong’s development. A public guided tour was also arranged in November 2017.

by the HKIS in August, where students were guided by surveyors to visit modern buildings and conserved monuments, such as Apliu Street, Sham Shui Po Police Station, Mei Ho House and Golden Computer Arcade in Sham Shui Po. Students were given an opportunity to appreciate the importance of Hong Kong's sustainable development and learn more about surveyors' scope of work, including building revitalisation and management. The winning entries will be displayed on the event website for public viewing. More details of the public exhibition will be announced soon.

About the Hong Kong Institute of Surveyors

Established in 1984, The Hong Kong Institute of Surveyors is the only surveying professional body incorporated by ordinance in Hong Kong. As of 13 October 2017, the number of members reached 9,726, of which 6,399 were corporate members. The Institute's work includes setting standards for professional services and performance, establishing codes of ethics, determining requirements for admission as professional surveyors, access and award the professional qualification, and advance members' professional knowledge, technical and services standards through continuing professional development.

The Institute has an important consultative role in government policy making and on issues affecting the profession. We have advised the Government on issues such as unauthorised building works, building safety campaign, problems of property management, town planning and development strategies, construction quality and housing problems. We are working on amendments to standard forms of building contract and have issued guidance notes on floor area measurement methods.
